Waterproof Connectors

Wood Dale, IL– February 2009 – The Phoenix Company of Chicago introduces a new series of Waterproof Connectors to its product line.

Phoenix's Waterproof Connectors are designed to withstand harsh atmospheric conditions and provide similar benefits as hermetic designs. Environmental characteristics are achieved with the addition of sealing gaskets at critical ingress points. Connectors are protected from water, sand, dust, salt, and other solid and chemical impurities.

Features to note:

- Protection categories to EN 60 529/IEC 529.
- Standard products meet the requirements of IP67.
- Available in custom solutions including: adapters and cable assemblies.
- Low frequency to high frequency bands available.
- Special configurations done on request.

Phoenix's Waterproof Connectors are ideal for: aerospace satellites, medical, military, petrochemical, shipboard and deep-sea immersion, and telecommunications.

*Meet RoHS compliancy standards.
